Optional StepUp Bootcamp

Academic success is not just about studying hard.

• Live with an American family and learn about culture.
• Brush up on your academic skills.
• Establish friendships for support.
• Build your confidence in English.

StepUp Bootcamp is an optional academic English and study skills preparation program for international students. It is held two weeks before International Orientation. In this program, you will take courses and engage in social activities that will help you “brush up” on your language and study skills, familiarize yourself with American culture, build a support network, and increase your confidence in interacting with Americans inside and outside the classroom. If you decide to participate in this program, your official arrival date in the U.S. will be August 3.

PROGRAM DATES
August 4 - August 19, 2018

Friday, August 3  Arrive at PHL or EWR airport
Saturday, August 4  Meet your host family
Sunday, August 19  International Orientation begins

If you arrive before August 3, you will have to pay for additional hotel stay.

PROGRAM COST
$2,400 with homestay; $800 without homestay. This includes:

• Airport pick-up at Philadelphia International Airport (PHL) or Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR)
• Accommodations with a local American family (shared or single room with bath and bed linens)
• Daily breakfast and dinner with your host family (weekday lunches on your own) and all meals on weekends
• Weekday transportation to and from school
• Weekday course work, campus social activities and a day-trip excursion with museum admissions
